2024/999 - Uber's own data protection violations

In response to your recent request for information regarding;

- The number of Uber's own data protection violations (including all data breaches, material data losses or infringements of data protection law) in the UK that the company reported to North Wales Police. If possible, please provide a breakdown of the types of data protection violations disclosed, who was affected (drivers, couriers and/or customers) and the outcomes of these data protection violations

- The number of Uber's own data protection violations (including all data breaches, material data losses or infringements of data protection law) abroad (countries outside the UK) that the company reported to North Wales Police. If possible, please provide a breakdown of the types of data protection violations disclosed, who was affected (drivers, couriers and/or customers) and the outcomes of these data protection violations

- The number of investigations opened into the above, and outcome of these investigations

Please provide the data for the following years, separately, 2024 (year to date), 2023, 2022, 2021, 2020 and 2019. If necessary so as not to exceed the cost/time limit, please refine this to 2024, 2023 and 2022.

North Wales Police have search for offences under Data Protection and Computer Misuse Act with keyword Uber in Occurrence Summary or Occurrence Enquiry Log which produced a 'nil' return.

However, you may wish to re-direct your enquiry to the ICO:
