In response to your recent request for information regarding;

Clarification requested

Our ward boundaries on our system do not currently align with the electoral ward boundary for Llanbedrog gyda Mynytho (some boundaries changed in the 2021 census) We have a Llanbedrog ward. Myntho falls in the Llanegan ward boundary on our system which spans from Myntho to Cilan (excluding Abersoch and surrounding area). We can search for data relating to two these wards on mentioned, or if you have a list of post codes that fall within the electoral boundary we can search under those instead.

Clarification received

Please use the Llanbedrog electoral ward.

Why do your wards not align with the current Welsh local government areas and when will this be updated?

One arrest resulting in a charge.

No decision has been made yet to redraw ward boundaries within our systems at this time. Wards previously aligned with electoral boundaries as the geographical policing structure was designed in 2011 and was aligned with the 2011 census wards. Remapping to mirror the boundary changes in the 2021 census would have significant impact and require changes to multiple systems and redesigning Local Policing Areas / Teams.
