2025/1276 - Serving of ABCs

In response to your recent request for information regarding;

You may also be able to supply me with any guidance notes for the serving of ABCs used by North Wales Police.

There is not any guidance notes however, the following advice is provided to officers:

For an ABC to be considered the recipient must agree to accept one. The prohibitions attributed to the ABC contract must be proportionate to the individual's behaviour. On occasions we may engage the individual into choosing suitable prohibitions. By choosing their own prohibitions there is more meaningfulness when breached.

When the ABC is agreed, the officer will read through the content and the recipient and the officer sign the document. If an AA is required, they also are required to sign the ABC.
